EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

TRANSIENCE OF FEELINGS: If road rage is any indicator of how emotions can influence action, the Stoics perhaps had a point when they said that feelings are not a reliable basis for deciding action. The emotions of the moment can override rational thought and lead to actions that one may later regret. On the other hand, feelings can also lead to inaction. In fact, the Bhagavad Gita, one of the more critical texts on doubt, centres on the possibility of inaction.

Just as the battle in the Mahabharata is about to begin, the epic freezes to allow for Krishna's philosophic advice to the Pandavas' best warrior, Arjuna, on the necessity of entering the battle. When Arjuna is despondent about the possibility of killing his relatives, Krishna advises him to snap out of it. What had to be done had to be gone through. Feelings would pass.

Similarly, the mind is a battlefield and emotions often cloud judgement, leading individuals to take ill-advised actions. Even as Aristotle maintains that feelings are integral to ethics, there are situations in which action is imminent and timing so crucial that there can be no debate about its abhorrent consequences.

There is no doubt that feelings and emotions are valuable and even necessary to experience anything. In all cultures, music, theatre, ideas and propaganda play on emotions to create a desired ethos. Indian music and dance classify the moods and use appropriate musical notes and gestures to convey each mood. Armies use marching tunes and lyrics to inspire courage and sacrifice. Tragedy and farce in theatre have been instrumental in the rise and fall of kingdoms. And ideologies as feelings are equally potent in creating hate, violence and divisiveness.

Hence, there is a need to regulate emotions lest others gain control over them. Even the mind of a sage can be swayed and carried away by emotion. Attachment, anger, greed, envy and acquisitiveness are forms that feelings take. Reason is of little avail, as emotions can override it.

It is only when emotions and feelings come under control that their transience becomes clear. The ego, which orchestrates all persuasion and justification, stands exposed. There is recognition that all sense-perceived objects are mere manifestations. When the transience of emotions is realised, the only feelings that dominate are compassion and love. A moral obligation to all creatures. — Jamuna Rao in Deccan Herald

Artist creates fascinating optical illusions

Beijing: Li Jiayue is a talented young artist from China's Sichuan province who specialises in extremely detailed three-dimensional optical illusions.

He has always been passionate about art, and despite majoring in electrical automation, it was no surprise to anyone who knew him that he opted for an artistic career. He focused most of his time on developing unique and eye-catching optical illusions, where he camouflaged various objects like lamp posts, tree trunks and even large buildings in the background using his expert painting skills.

Li made a name for himself on Chinese video-sharing platform, but he has also been featured on mainstream television over the last few years.

World's largest rattlesnake roundup

Texas: For the past 59 years, the residents of Sweetwater, Texas, have been coming together during the second weekend of March to celebrate the 'World's Largest Rattlesnake Roundup', a four-day event that features the beheading and skinning of thousands of rattlesnakes in front of a live audience.

Launched in 1958 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees), it used to be the most effective way to control the region's heavy snake population responsible for the death of cattle and humans alike.

The event still manages to draw up to 30,000 visitors each year, including out-of-state snake hunting teams and tourists from other countries.

Just last year, a whopping 3,780 pounds — that's tens of thousands — of rattlesnake were netted and thrown live into a pit, from where they were taken out and killed.

Public urination menace in Mysuru

Sir,

Apropos the recent letter in SOM on public urination, it is indeed a national shame that important streets in our city reek of human urine. We, the so-called civilised citizens, behave no better than animals when it comes to answering nature's call.

It is shocking to see well-constructed public toilets lying unused and locked. For instance, near the new Devaraja Traffic Police Station building, men continue to relieve themselves on the road next to Bidaram Rama Mandira, while the nearby toilet remains inaccessible.

Whose money is being spent on building such facilities that remain perpetually defunct? And who is accountable for this negligence?

One can only imagine the plight of women, who are left without a clean, hygienic place to relieve themselves — forced to endure discomfort because the city fails to meet even their basic needs. This is a fundamental civic requirement and it demands immediate attention from the administration.

Our authorities must adopt better systems and provide functional, well-maintained public toilets. Even smaller countries like Singapore offer exemplary models we can emulate. Will our district administration finally take note?

Obituary

Shakunthala J. Kumar

Mysuru, Dec. 24- Shakunthala J. Kumar (90), wife of late Dr. H.V. Jeevendhara Kumar and a resident of No. 1, Gokulam Road in V.V. Mohalla, passed away in the early hours of today in city.

She leaves behind two sons, one daughter and a host of relatives and friends.

Last rites were held at Chirashantidhama in Gokulam here this morning.

Crater invites danger

Mysuru, Dec. 24 (BS)- A crater that has developed on the main road of Janatha Nagar in T.K. Layout in city has been lurking danger. As Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) officials failed to take notice, the concerned locals have placed a dried coconut frond near the gap, to prevent any mishap.

It is alleged that, 15 days have passed since the crater emerged on the road near a petrol bunk adjacent to Taralabalu Educational Institutions, neither of the officials have visited the spot, at least in the interest of road users.

The Janatha Nagar main road is one of the busiest road stretches in city, with the educational institutions, residential areas and commercial establishments located nearby.

School vans and autorickshaws ferrying school children form chock-a-block.

With a petrol bunk situated nearby, the number of vehicles arriving to tank up, add to the already busy traffic density. Any pressure on the crater, may lead to caving-in of the road.

The two-wheeler riders and pedestrians are more vulnerable, but whom to ask, question the concerned public.

The absence of Corporators, due to the prolonged delay in Local Body elections, is the reason, whey the issue remains unaddressed, said a public, who warned of staging a protest.

'Exclude Chamundi Hill from Greater Mysuru'

Residents urge Chief Minister Siddaramaiah

Mysuru, Dec. 24 (BLU&BCT)- Residents of Chamundi Hill have urged Chief Minister Siddaramaiah not to merge their area into the Greater Mysuru limits, insisting that it should remain under the existing Chamundi Hill Gram Panchayat jurisdiction.

The villagers met Siddaramaiah at his T.K. Layout residence on Monday and submitted a memorandum.

They pointed out that Chamundi Hill is the smallest Gram Panchayat in the State and, being both a religious and tourist destination, its traditional character and heritage must be preserved.

They emphasised that Chamundi Hill and Thavarekatte already have separate Gram Panchayats and any local issues can be resolved at that level.

Chamundi Hill residents submitting a memorandum to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah at his T.K. Layout residence in city on Monday.

The villagers warned that inclusion under Greater Mysuru would trigger large-scale development projects, which could destabilise and damage parts of the eco-sensitive Hill, especially since it falls within a protected forest zone.

Responding to the appeal, Siddaramaiah assured the villagers that he would thoroughly examine the matter.

Among those present were Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Chief Priest Dr. N. Shashishekar Dixit, Gram Panchayat President Nagamma, Vice-President Ravikumar, Members Bharath, Manjunath and Mahadevaswamy, local leaders Doreswamy, Mangal Kumar and Shambulinga and Chamundi Betta Hitarakshana Samithi President Sridhar and others.

Dowry death: Accused sentenced to 12.6 years jail

Mysuru, Dec. 24 (KS)- The 5th Additional District and Sessions Court of city has sentenced a man to 12 years and six months rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs. 1.35 lakh after finding him guilty on charges of 'dowry death.'

The accused, who was convicted, is Chaitrananda, a resident of Devirammanahalli in Nanjangud taluk and the victim is his wife Sowmyashree.

Chaitrananda and Sowmyashree's was a love marriage. Later, Chaitrananda began to harass his wife for not bringing dowry. Stating that he had debts following construction of a new house, Chaitrananda, who wanted to open a textile shop, began to harass his wife mentally and physically for dowry.

Though he was given 100 grams gold jewellery as dowry, Chaitrananda, saying that even if he sold the jewels, the money got from it was not sufficient to open the shop, began to harass Sowmyashree to sell the land which was in her father's name and bring Rs. 10 lakh.

Unable to bear the harassment for dowry, Sowmyashree, at about 9.30 am on Dec. 27, 2016, committed suicide by hanging self with a saree to the ceiling fan in Chaitrananda's house.

A case was registered against Chaitrananda at Nanjangud Rural Police Station and the then Investigating Officer ASP Mohammed Sujitha, who conducted investigation, had submitted a charge-sheet to the Court.

Judge K.N. Roopa, who took up the case, heard the arguments from both sides, found accused Chaitrananda guilty of the crime and sentenced him to two years rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs. 25,000 under IPC Section 498(A). Failing to pay the fine, the convict has to undergo an addition 3 months simple imprisonment.

Chaitrananda is also sentenced 10 years rigorous imprisonment and has to pay a fine of Rs. 1 lakh under IPC Section 304(B). Failing to pay the fine, he has to serve an additional 6 months simple imprisonment.

The Court has also sentenced him to a 6 months rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs. 10,000 under Dowry Prevention Act. The convict has to undergo an addition one month simple imprisonment if he fails to pay the fine.

Public Prosecutor B.E. Yogeshwara argued on behalf of the Government.

It's blooming Pink...

With the onset of winter many a deciduous tree shed their old leaves followed by fresh growth of foliage and flowers. This phenomenon of rejuvenation begins during December in many ornamental trees lining the avenues of Mysuru. Among these are 'Pink tabebuia or Tabebuia rosea' which provides a festive look on the roads and parks during Christmas and New Year season. Picture shows the Pink tabebuias in full bloom at Kuvempu Park in Gokulam 2nd Stage, which has become a cynosure of all eyes. The office-bearers of Gokulam Nagarika Abhivrudhi Sangha are also tending to the Park along with the MCC-appointed gardener.

e-Swathu glitches extend data migration till Dec. 29

A-Khata, B-Khata property services paralysed further

Mysuru, Dec. 24 (RK&BCT)- Following severe technical glitches and repeated server failures in the revamped e-Swathu 2.0 digital platform, which have stalled the issuance of e-Khata documents — A-Khata and B-Khata — the data migration process has once again been extended, this time till Dec. 29.

As a result, there will be no updates or issuance of A-Khata and B-Khata documents across Karnataka during this period.

In a communication issued to all Municipal Corporations and Local Self-Governing Bodies, Karnataka Municipal Data Society (KMDS) stated that e-Aasthi server will remain shut from Dec. 22 to Dec. 29, and no documents under the e-Swathu platform will be processed or issued.

The communication further directed that since data migration and testing activities are underway, e-Swathu approvals must not be granted under any circumstances and all related activities must be completely halted during the period.

The e-Swathu 2.0 platform, a centralised online system designed to manage urban and rural property records and enable citizens to access digital e-Khata documents — Forms 11A and 11B — along with other property records, has remained largely non-functional since its launch on Dec. 1.

With the migration deadline now extended to Dec. 29, the e-Swathu 2.0 portal has effectively been out of service for nearly a month, causing inconvenience to property owners and local bodies alike.

Pink Toilet is Shut

Non-payment of water, power bills, staff salary; power supply disconnected; doors closed since a fortnight

Mysuru, Dec. 24 (BS)- The city's first Pink Toilet on Dewan's Road near D. Devaraj Urs Road, has shut door. It has been a fortnight since the toilet remains inaccessible for women and the reason is trivial: the unpaid water and electricity bills and salary dues for the staff.

Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), taking into cognisance the tourist influx and the womenfolk moving around in the heart of the city, built a toilet exclusively for women, spending about Rs. 37 lakh under State Finance Commission (SFC) grants, in the year 2023. For maintenance, the toilet was handed over to a contractor.

All was well for two years, till complaints of inadequate maintenance emerged, following the mounting water and electricity bills and non-payment of salary for women hired for the job. As the arrears towards electricity bills remain uncleared, the power supply to the toilet has been cut.

Apart from travellers, the women working in nearby shops and their customers, largely relied on this Pink Toilet. Now that the toilet remains closed, they are dependent on the toilet at City Bus Stand near K.R. Circle.

On the other hand, there has been a growing demand for men's toilet, with the e-toilet earlier built at the intersection of Dewan's Road and D. Devaraj Urs Road, removed. Following this, the men are forced to relieve in open, turning the road side pavements and vacant places into an open toilet.

It is high time, either the MLA or MCC officers, take note of the grievance and address the same at the earliest, demand the public concerned.

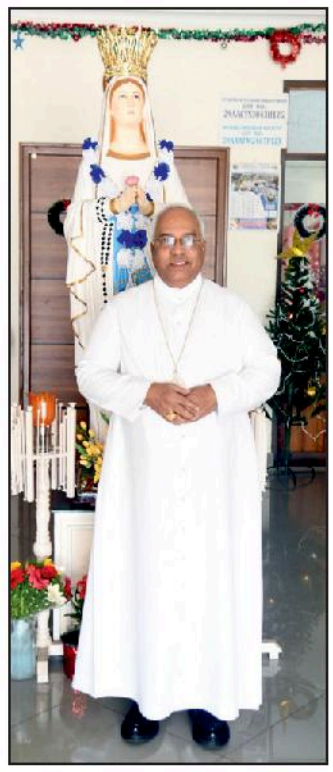
Mysuru Bishop's X-mas Message



When Jesus was born in Bethlehem, the angels sang: "Glory to God on high, and peace to all on earth." What is the glory of God that this helpless infant in the poverty and misery of a cowshed reveals?

It is the glory that shines through this magical event of God of heaven and earth choosing to be born as a human being in order to save humankind from sin, suffering and every form of evil.

It is the sense of relief, of interior freedom and unspeakable joy that springs from being drawn into intimacy with the divine, and savouring inwardly the goodness, the tenderness and the compassion of God.

It is the profound feeling of being liberated from every kind of bondage, healed of every wound, and every kind of brokenness.

It is the transformation that comes when we die to our own ego and learn to live wholly for God and for others.

That kind of transformation is truly the glory of God and it results in universal fraternity and peace, "where the mind is without fear and the head is held high; where knowledge is free; and where the world is not broken up into fragments by narrow domestic walls." That is what Christmas is all about. That is the true message of Christmas. That is what Christ came to establish on earth.

Therefore, if Christmas should truly be Christmas, then, we need to look beyond crass commercialism, garish externalism, empty ritualism, unfeeling legalism and rigid dogmatism, in favour of letting our hearts be touched by the pure love, unalloyed joy, unfeigned innocence, immense tenderness, abundant warmth and profound peace that the little Child in Bethlehem exudes. Then, indeed, this broken, wounded, bleeding world of ours will be a haven of peace, freedom, truth, justice, equality and fraternity. Then indeed Christmas will be truly Christmas and Christmas will be forever.

This is very much needed today, when, religion is being maliciously, masterfully and menacingly manipulated to create divisions and spread hatred, leading to violence, lynching, dehumanisation and destruction.

Therefore, at this Christmas, my prayer is that Christ is born again in every heart and every home, so that the peace, joy and love that Christmas brings permeates every soul and pervades all life, each and every moment of the New Year.

ISRO successfully launches LVM3 'Bahubali' rocket

American communication satellite placed in Low Earth Orbit

Sriharikota (Andhra Pradesh), Dec. 24 (UNI)- India's heavy lift rocket LVM3 rocket, nick named as 'Bahubali,' successfully slung the American communication satellite BlueBird 6 into a Low Earth Orbit (LEO), this morning.

Weighing about 6.1 tonne, the BlueBird 6 satellite belongs to the Nasdaq listed satellite communication player AST SpaceMobile, USA.

Speaking after the launch, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Chairman Dr. V. Narayanan said, "I am happy to announce that LVM3M6 has successfully injected the Bluebird Block-2 US satellite and precisely into the intended orbit."

At 8.55 am, the 43.5 metre tall and weighing 640 ton, the LVM3 rocket blasted off from the second launch pad at the Satish Dhawan Space Centre (SDSC) rocket port carrying BlueBird 6. About 16 minutes into its flight, the LVM3 set free the BlueBird 6 in the intended LEO.

With this successful launch, the LVM3 rocket maintained its impeccable record of eight consecutive successful missions.

The LVM3 is a three-stage rocket comprising two solid strap-on motors (S200), a liquid core stage (L110) and a cryogenic upper stage (C25). It can carry approximately 4 tons to Geosynchronous Transfer Orbit (GTO) and 10 tons to LEO, with ISRO actively working to raise its GTO capacity to 5 tons.

At about 6.5 ton, BlueBird 6 will be the heaviest satellite ever placed into LEO by the LVM3, which currently boasts a 100% launch success rate.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and other dignitaries took to 'X' platform to congratulate ISRO for a successful mission.

WORD OF THE DAY

Temporize

Pronunciation: TEM-puh-ryze (verb)
Meaning: To temporize is to avoid making a decision or giving a definite answer in order to have more time.
Origin: Temporize comes from the Middle French word temporiser, which in turn likely traces back via Medieval Latin temporizāre, "to delay," to the Latin noun tempus, meaning "time." Tempus is also the root of such words as tempo, contemporary, and temporal. If you need to buy some time, you might resort to temporizing, but you probably won't win admiration for doing so, as the word typically carries a negative connotation. For instance, a political leader faced with a difficult issue might temporize by talking vaguely about possible solutions without actually doing anything. The point of such temporizing is to avoid taking definitive—and possibly unpopular — action, in hopes that the problem will somehow go away.
Example: "The question is, Did you eat the last piece of pie? And the politician who ate the last piece of pie doesn't want to say yes, because they might get in trouble. Doesn't want to say no, because that's an outright lie. So they waver, they equivocate, they temporize, they put things in context, and they talk like a politician." — David Frum, The Atlantic (The David Frum Show podcast), 21 May 2025.

THE ODD WORD

Calescence

Increase in heat.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Desperate times call for desperate measures

Meaning: When you say 'Desperate times call for desperate measures' you mean that actions that might seem extreme under normal circumstances are appropriate during adversity.
Origin: The expression 'Desperate times call for desperate measures' is believed to have originated with a saying coined by the ancient Greek physician, Hippocrates. In his work Amorphisms, he wrote: "For extreme diseases, extreme methods of cure, as to restriction, are most suitable."
Example: "I really don't want to break up with Tim, but desperate times call for desperate measures."

Be faithful in small things because it is in them that your strength lies.
